UNIQUE LIKENESS OF LINCOLN

William P. Nuttall is an artist by vocation and avocation. Specializes in historical subjects, especially Valley Forge, which is close to his home at Centre Square, Pa. Neighbor of ours. Pre-Revolutionary inns furnish a favorite subject, too, and his murals are well known. Past commander of both British and American Legion posts, he was gassed in W. W. 1. Carries scars of shrapnel on his forehead, and of a bullet in his chest. A great admirer of Lincoln, his above labor of love is a unique portrayal of the President AND his Gettysburg Address—timely illustration for this issue of the "Bulletin."
